amazing, but nobody did it quite like Demi Lovato. Writhing around on the outdoors stage in a black and purple, sparkly bodysuit to 'Cool For The Summer,' Demi's performance was sexy and cool — and included someone special!

Demi Lovato, 23, absolutely killed at the 2015 MTV Video Music Awards, performing "Cool For The Summer" with surprise guest Iggy Azalea, 25! We were so shocked to see Iggy emerge from the stage, but the insanity of the whole performance was capped perfectly by her appearance! And also... seeing some cherries get popped onstage? Wait, what?

"Cool For The Summer" has been our jam for the entire season, and after Demi's performance at the VMAs on August 30, you can't deny that it's one of the best songs of the year! Demi hit the VMAs outdoor stage looking sexier than ever, rocking a skimpy black bodysuit, black thigh-high boots and that wet, glossy beauty game we've been obsessed with for so long!

Her crazy performance included hot backup dancers wearing fuzzy floaties and matching speedos in neon hues, with their hair dyed to match! Demi waltzed around the stage filled with confetti and giant cherries, letting that audience know she was there for some serious summer fun.

The best part of all? Iggy jumped up for her verse, completely unannounced, and brought the house completely down! The two ladies stomped all over the stage in their sky-high boots — the walking embodiment of girl power, no? While Iggy stepped aside after her verse, Demi continued her party, popping a cherry-shaped piñata and letting the confetti rain on the audience, releasing huge beachballs — and ending the whole thing by getting carried out in a massive inflatable pool like the queen she is. Go Demi!

How amazing was that? We knew that Demi would totally rock the VMAs, but we didn't think would be so fantastically over-the-top and bodacious! Seriously, we can't get over seeing "Cool For The Summer" live!

HollywoodLifers, were you shocked to see Iggy? Tell us in the comments and be sure to take our poll!
